Cruiser Bill Fight Nears the End; Supply Measures for Army and Navy.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

BROUGHT to time by threats of night sessions made by Senator Hale, chalrman of the naval affairs committee, the senators opposing the fifteen cruiser bill abandoned their fillbuster tactics and consented to ilmliation of debate on the measure This was to take effect at noon on February 4 and the prospect was that a vote would be reached by the middle of the week. If the pacifists succeed in attaching amendments to the house bill making necessary the appointment of a conference committee, there might be a final fillbuster against the conference report. One amendment was favored by President Coolidge—the elimination of the clause fixing dates for commencement of the construction of the croisers. It was made known at the White House that if the bill passed even without the time clause, the President will ask for an approprintion for an immediate start in the building program. Representative Britten of Illinois.

urging passage of the bill, said early in the week that he was "sure the time limit will be pleasing to President-Elect Hoover." But that gentleman immediately telegraphed to President Coolidge that he had made no public or private statement upon this question, and added: "As you know, I warmly support your views and you may so inform others if you wish to do so." This telegram was handed to Benator Ifale, who read it to the senate, and at the same time he read a message from Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, urging passage of the bill with the time clause, on behalf of the Senators Borah and Walsh both spoke in favor of elimination of the time clause, arguing that such action was proper as a preliminary to another disarmament proposal. Senator Reed of Missouri, who retires to private life on March 4, delivered what will be one of his last speeches, exercising his great powers of ridicule and sarroam against the partieus and arguing strongly for preparedness.

fization of the government, dwelt upon the extraordinary prosperity which the native is enjoying, but warned the country that this can be continued only by the exercise of rigid economy in federal, state and local expenditures. While admitting that as a result of the expansion of the country federal expenditures show a tendency to rise, Mr. Coolidge warned that the greatest menace to continued prosperity now lies in the rapidly mounting costs of local and state governments. This heavy drain on the earnings of the people, he said, "is a red flag warning us of the danger of depression and a repetition of the disaster that overtook the country in the closing days of 1020."

The President warmly defended his policy of drastic economy in federal expenditures, and was seconded in this by Director of the Budget Lord.

RECEIVING few political visitors and devoting part of each week to fishing, Herbert Hoover is having a fine time down in Florida, Most interesting of his callers last week was Al Smith, who was stopping in Coral Gables. With John J. Rascob and W. F. Kenney, the recent Democratic standard bearer drove over to Belle Island and spent half an hour chatting with the man who defeated him, Later he said to the newspaper men: "I found Mr. Hoover very friendly and affable. We told each other some of the funny things that happened during the campaign to each of us, but did not talk of anything important. I can't go into that any more."

Thursday Mr. Hoover, still eager to catch a salifish, went to Long Key on the yacht Saunterer. His guests were Justice and Mrs. Harlan F. Stone. Verne Marshall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. and Mr. sod Mrs. Mark Sullivan.

Correspondents at Minmi Beach now believe that Mr. Hoover has decided on his cabinet but will not announce his selections until immediately after his inauguration. They are satisfied that neither Ambassador Morrow nor Ambassador Fletcher will be secretary of state. There was a report that that portfolio or the attorney generalship rught be offered to Thomas Nelson Perkins, the Boston lawyer who is one of the American alternates in the reportions conference of experts. It was believed Mr. Hoover, wanted a

New Englander in the cabinet.

Mr. Coolidge also was in Florida last week, but only for a brief period. Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and a few others, he ran down to Mountain Lake and on Friday delivered an address at the dedication of the bird sanctuary and singing tower established by Edward W. Bok. After a dinner and brief rest at Mr. 15-k's home, the party returned to Washington, arriving Estarday exching.

SPAIN had another of her abortive rebellions last week. In Ciudad Real, a hundred miles south of Madrid, a body of artillery revolted and ran their guas out into the streets ready to shoot up the city; and in some other places there were inciplent uprisings. The government troops were seat into action promptly, and promises of immunity to all privates and noncommissioned officers induced the mutineers to return to their barracks. Their officers were all arrested for trial by court-martial, and Sauchez Guerra, former Conservative party leader, was selzed at Valencia.

WALDEMARES, dictator of Lithunia, said he had incovered a plot against his regime by men who were acting with the knowledge of Tresident Smetona, and he caused the arrest of the chief of staff of the arm; and eighteen high officers of the Koyno garrison. The dictator's opponents declare he has been supporting the Boylet policies against Poland.

He was taken from his place of involuntary retirement in southeastern Russia and doomed to exile. At first no country could be found that would receive him but finally Turkey consented to let him be sent there. So he, at latest reports, was on his way to Angora His friends, in Herlin and elsewhere believed he would be assassinated on the way, and there was a rumor that the murder already had been countitied.

IN THE case of Glen Jennings, coast guard charged with the fatal shooting of J. D. Hankon, secretary of the Niogara Falls lodge of Elks, the jury could not agree on a verdlet and wardischarged. Jennings will be tried again, probably in May. The jury de liberated for twenty hours and at one time stood 11 to 1 for conviction.

MONG the Himalayan mountains, of which it owns a fair portion, is the Kingdom of Nepal. Often heard of, it is one of the native Asian states of which least is known.

With the exception of the British resident and a few European officials who live in the residency grounds at Khatmandu, the capital, no one is allowed to visit the country without a special permit issued by the durbar. When the pass or permit has been obtained, visitors are obliged to travel by one particular route and are not allowed to go beyond the valley of Khatmandu, a tract of country about fitteen miles wide by twenty miles long, surrounded by high mountains.

It is this valley of about three hundred square miles that gives the country its name, for to the natives it is Nepal. In the valley are situated the modern capital of Khatmandu and the old and much more picturesque capitals of Patan and Bhatgaon. At some time in the remote past this valley was a take, and the vast accumulation of water must eventually have cut for itself an outlet through the barrier of mountains to the south. Gradually there was left bare the rich alluvial deposit now drained by three rivers-the Baghmuttl. Vishnumatti and Manchera.

Preserving Music of Pacific Coast Indiana

Every day the halls of the anthroof California ring out with the fow, plaintive music of the Indian tribes of the Pacific coust. One unacquainted with the proceedings might be led to think that a war dance was in proggress, but the fact is that for many years the university management has been engaged in conceting phonographic records on which are preserved the old-time songs and dance muste and dances of the indians of the Pacific slope. They have succeeded in recording some gems. For instance, it has heretafore been imposslide to get the inclines to render the "Cry Dance" song, which is one sung by professional mourners at funerals, and those who are familiar with it regard it as unlucky to sing a death song when there is no denth. The Lost Bear Cinh's Lament is a bad balled in a minor key which tells the tale of a bewildered little bear stembling through the woods searching for its mother. These records are gone over dally by one of the faculty who is endeavoring to fathom the system which was made use of in the composition.

Wood Cups and Bowls Once Highly Prized

Wooden trenchers, commonly called "treen" were in common use during the Middle ages in Great Britain Masers or cups and bowls were frequently mentioned in wills and inventories. The finer specimens belonged to the richer abbeys-thus, there was the Great maser at York, the Judas cup at Durham, and at St. Saviour's. Southwark, there was "a maser with s border and knop of sylver and gilt which was given to the church wardens to drink when they mete." These valuable wooden cups were sometimes ornamented by a rlm of silver, but otherwise they were seldom decornted by more than a few low moldings or incised lines. Their value and beauty lay in the graining of the wood, gengrally maple, and the old turners chose the part of the trunk where it divided off into branches so as to obtain the speckled bird's eye graining. By Tudor times pewter began to take the place of tree, though poorer folk continued to use these wooden trenchers and bowls till much later, especially in the north of England and in Scot-

The Lead Dog

By GEORGE MARSH

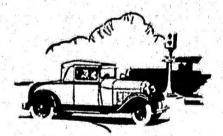

Here is a dog story that will match anything of the kind ever written., And it is not alone a dog story; it is a thrilling record of the adventurous life of the courageous men who hunt and trap in the far North. The reader is brought into contact with a new region, a brave and hardy breed of pioneers and with the remarkable dogs which are man's chief reliance in that country.

There are many reasons for the ease of steering the new Ford

THE new Ford is exception- the shaft and worm toally easy to steer because of the well - proportioned weight of the car, the steelspoke wheels, the co-ordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good deiving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give gether. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and belted or riveted together.

Throughout, the new Ford steering mechanism is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and deag link Inbricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use

The TOWN DOCTOR

MANY TOWNS ARE SO CLOSE TO THE PICTURE THAT THEY CAN'T SEE THE PRAME,

The town that cannot be improved upon just isn'tl . Yet in every community there are "acres of diamonds", that have never been mined.

Mr. Newcomb Carlton, President of the Western Union Telegraph Company says: "The advantages of a community for both business and residence are often lost sight of by its natives. The very obviousness dulls their perception by becoming CONTEMPTUOUSLY FAMILIAR."

It is only natural that to that with which we are most familiar we pay the least attention. A stranger notices the growth of a child much more so than do its parents; candy is no treat to a confectionery store clerk, and a rose in your own front yard is much more attractive to the man in the next West Bethel black. The grass on the other side of the fence always looks the greenest; the other fellow's business appears to be n "snap"; some other town offers greater possibilities as long as you stand so close to the picture of your town, your community or your neighborhood that you cannot see the fullness

"Contemptuous familiarity" works both ways and therefore we have sickly ritles, callous communities, tired towns, haggard hamlets, and hundreds of vanishing villages, the citizens of which go on about their daily tasks apparently totally maware of their condition.

The old saying that "There's a little bit of bad in the best of us and a little bit of good in the worst of us." applies to towns and communities as well as to individuals.

What is GOOD about the community where you live! What is BAD! What is there that INVITES! What REPELS!

No town can be all good or all had, therefore, RECUGNIZE that which is good, and capitalize on it recognize that which is had, and personally do something to eliminate It!

Dan't think that what YOF do wan't make any difference for it will! Everybody doing something gets things done; sitting back "letting George do it" never gets ANTHING done. Your town is your business. Whoever you are-whatever you are- it's GOOD business on your part to do every little thing you can to make your town and community a better place in which to live, work, play, and make money. It's POOR business to become oblivious. to anything that invites business or repels it.

YOU can't make money unless your neighbor does; you can't get an nereuse in pay unless the firm does more business; the firm can't do more business unless the community grows -progresses with the times - and prospers. The community can do none of these things efficiently when "contemptuously familiar" with its advantages and disadvantages.

Clean Mouth Campaign

The astounding success of the Clean Mouth" chapaign, which has been condueted in schools throughout the state for the past two years by the Maine Public Health Association, has surprised even the most optimistic members of that organization. Their surprise resalts from the fact that 1028 showed an increase of 150% over 1927 in the number of school rooms that won the ing lumber to Mann's mill, West Paris better than those lose, and an ornament offered to each class in which every Littlehala's. child has had necessary dental corrections made. In 1927, the year in which the plan was begun, only five classes in the entire state won the honor certificutos. Lust year thirty-two were awarded. A similar increase was noted in the "Fifty Per Cent Certificateh" awarded when fifty per cent or more students have had all the necessary dental corrections. In 1927 thirty-five or these were given, whereas in 1928 this number jumped to 135.

The campaign was conducted as part of the Six Point Child" health program, also sponsored by the Association, in which each child examined by spent the day recently with his parents a doctor and found to be in good physical condition in regard to throat, vision, hearing, weight, posture and teeth, was given a certificate attesting hat fact. Here the native dog, developed to the highest degree of strength and utilization of instinct and intelligence, becomes man's chief reliance. These animals are trained not only to draw loads, but to scent and track game, and also by the exercise of inherent senses, to give warning of lurking foes and other dangers, All of these dogs have the wolf strain in varying degrees, but differ considerably in type according to the region from which they come. One of the most highly regarded breeds is the Ungava dog which comes from the central and western portions of the Labrador peninsula.

With his dog team he had started on the March crust to explore the nameless valleys beyond the last blue, hills for signs of fur; and until the tralls went soft in the April thaws. Gaspard and his brother had followed his father's trap-lines, confident of his safe return. But when the days of sled travel had passed, they knew that somewhere beyond the grim hills to the north, trugedy had overtaken the best bushman and hunter on the Starving-that a fate, unimagined, mysterious, had stricken the veteran who would not starve where earlbou roumed the muskegs.

And the youth ny all he knows about the bush. He'd seized the gaping lower law of the be boss on this trip, and we're like brothers. It's time, too, I made something for myself, father.

Slowly the grey eyes of the elder McCain softened as his son begged for the chance to risk bis life in the bluterlands of the Yellow-Leg. At lust he said, reluctantly: "It you'll promise to take the dogs and make for the coast and home when your grub gets low instead of trying to sife's it out I'll consent."

"Good old dad!" Brock impulsively wrong his father's hand. So it was that early September found the two boys on their way to the wilderness of the Yellow-Leg.

CHAPTER II

On the Yellow-Leg Trail Through the early afternoon the deeply loaded camp followed the flat coast. From the stern Gaspard, the better canneman, driving his narrow blade with the Araightarmed lunge of the Cree, watched with frombing eyes the increasing blackness of the northern horizon. The sun was tanging over the muskey behind the space wyond the

CHILD'S RECOVERY ALMOST

Julia Libby's Girl

Signs of Worms are: Constipation, deswollen upper lip, offensive . breath, nd Iuli stom ach with pains, pale ach with pains, pale face, eyes heavy, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points on the tongue, starting during sleep with troublesomedreams, slew feyer.

If this happened in your family you, too, would call it a miracle.

Mrs. Julia Libby, Goodyear Ave., Melrose (Mass.), writes: "Not long ago, when my youngest daughter was 3 years old, she was suddenly afflicted with a twitching of the mouth.

Finally, I happened to notice Dr. True's Elizir advertised. I gave her several doses which resulted in worms being expelled to the extent that in a remarkably short time her face re-turned to normal again and she has been in the best of health ever since. It is certainly a wonderful laxative and worm expeller, as it performed what seemed almost a miracle for me. I can't praise it too highly."
